County Seeking Input from Vendor Community on Voting Systems Assessment Project

LOS ANGELES – Los Angeles County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk (RR/CC) Dean C. Logan released a Request for Information (RFI) for the Los Angeles County Voting Systems Assessment Project (VSAP). The RFI seeks input from vendors to help inform the County's upcoming solicitation activity for manufacturing and certification of new voting equipment and services.

"As we begin the next phase of our project, we are excited and interested to hear from the marketplace on their ideas regarding manufacturing components of the new system and what partnership models may be utilized to complete this work," said Logan. "The input we receive will inform how we will reshape how County voters experience elections in a manner consistent with the voter-focused design work we have already completed."

The VSAP is an innovative project launched by Los Angeles County to develop a completely new voting experience for Los Angeles County voters; an experience that focuses on the needs and preferences of the voters themselves – and, that is publicly owned and operated. The proposed new voting experience was designed using a human-centered approach that actually engaged voters in the design process. To date, the County has engaged close to 3,500 voters in the project.

"In order to ensure the new voting experience meets the needs of the County's diverse electorate, we engaged voters from the beginning," said Logan. "Voters were also part of the user testing where we presented various concepts and designs to stakeholders and voters in our community."

Respondents to the RFI have until Tuesday, May 26, 2017 at 5PM to reply. Companies, firms or individuals interested in responding to or desiring more information on the RFI are advised to visit the VSAP website at <http://vsap.lavote.net/request-for-information/>.
